

FINDING THE PATIENT VOICE IN ONCOLOGY: CONVERSATIONS WITH PROFESSOR PETER KUHN ABOUT CancerBase

JOIN US for a HEAL and MESH Academy Lunch & Learn event, featuring Professor Peter Kuhn. Dr. Kuhn is a scientist, educator and entrepreneur with a career long commitment in personalized medicine and individualized patient care. He is focused on the redesign of cancer care. Dr. Kuhn is the Dean's Professor of Biological Sciences and Professor of Medicine and Engineering, a founding member of the Michelson Center for Convergent Biosciences at USC and is leading CSI-Cancer at USC. Dr. Kuhn's strategy is to advance our understanding of the human body to improve the human condition. Dr. Kuhn is a physicist who trained initially at the Julius Maximilians Universität Würzburg, Germany, before receiving his Masters in Physics at the University of Albany, Albany, NY in 1993 and his Ph.D. in 1995.

THURSDAY,
January 17, 2019
12:00 - 1:00 PM
Mayer Auditorium

RSVP at:

https://usckecq.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_56CvnoMbvANL5T7

or use the QR code

The Lunch and Learn Series is an initiative of the HEAL (Humanities, Ethics/Economics, Art, and the Law) Program at the Keck School of Medicine. Scholars in the humanities, social sciences, film, theater, and law will inform our collective understanding of the health of individuals, communities, and societies.

The MESH Academy is a joint initiative of the Dean of the Keck School of Medicine and the USC Office of the Provost. The mission of the MESH Academy at USC is to empower the convergence of research in medicine, engineering, sciences, and humanities through educational programs, support for innovation and entrepreneurship, and corporate relations to address challenges in human health and disease.

