

PhD PATHWAYS: CAREER PLANNING & PREPARATION

Spring 2019 Series

HEALTH SCIENCE CAMPUS:

TWITTER FOR SCIENTIST

Dr. Preis has presented several workshops on science communications and social media usage at national conferences including AAPS and AACP. This workshop aims to teach students how to use social media as a scientist with an emphasis on the Twitter platform.

Date: January 11, 2019

Time: 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM

Location: PSC 108

INTERVIEWING & NEGOTIATION SKILLS

Come to learn how to prepare for a successful interview by asking well-informed questions, clearly pointing out your skills and abilities, and using internal terminology. You will also learn how to effectively negotiate an offer by leveraging your value to the potential employer.

Date: February 13, 2019

Time: 12:30 - 2:30 PM (presentation will start around 1:00 PM)

Location: SSB 115/116

NETWORKING

Dr. Richmond is Chair of the Department of Regulatory and Quality Sciences at the USC School of Pharmacy. Dr. Richmond is a huge proponent of networking and in fact includes communication techniques as part of the curriculum of the Regulatory Sciences Programs; Dr. Richmond has previously taught this workshop of effective networking tips. This workshop aims to teach students tips and tricks for how to network effectively.

Date: April 2, 2019

Time: 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM

Location: CHP G24

RSVP for sessions at <https://bit.ly/2EBbQxl>