Having trouble making time for writing? Would you be more productive writing with others in a friendly space? Do you want the chance to ask quick questions while writing? Then the Writing Center's new Writing Studio is for you!

Every Thursday afternoon, an experienced consultant will lead a writers' group to allow writers to get work done in a quiet and supportive space. If participants have quick questions or want feedback on a small selection (one paragraph or less), they are welcome to ask. Drop by the Writing Center on any Thursday afternoon for the NEW Writing Studio!
